Articulation, in art and architecture, is a method of styling the joints in the formal elements of architectural design. Through degrees of articulation, each part is united with the whole work by means of a joint in such a way that the joined parts are put together in styles ranging from exceptionally distinct jointing to the opposite of high articulationâ€"fluidity and continuity of joining.

As an industry, we do have the Unified Modeling Language (UML), ArchiMate and SysML, but asking whether these provide an effective way to communicate software architecture is often irrelevant because many teams have already thrown them out in favour of much simpler "boxes and lines" diagrams.

Data sources are defined in two dimensions, mobility and structure of data. First, in situ refers to data, which does not move. An example of in situ data is a Hadoop file to be processed with MapReduce.Streaming data refers to a data flow to be processed in real time, e.g. a Twitter stream. Second, structure of the data source is defined. Structured data has a strict data model.
